Just how healthy is your business?

It's a great time to take stock and make changes for the better...

The Profile 22 business health-check provides a unique opportunity to get your business fighting fit for 2010. We'll work with you to determine your needs and help you decide on the level and type of support that's best for your business.

Our FREE consultation will review your business's current activities against your desired goals and achievements and help you:

- Identify any gaps and key market opportunities
- Develop a tailored plan to support growth and profitability
- Define the right level and type of support to help your business achieve its goals

With a clear and detailed picture, the Profile 22 health-check leaves you geared up to take full control of your business for the future.

Your FREE unique health profile

Your 'on-call' visit

We'll make an appointment with you at a time to suit you, to ensure minimal disruption to your working day. We'll then visit you at your premises, taking the time to talk to you and really get to know you and your business.

Your FREE consultation

Together, we'll go through all your current business activities, assessing its performance, successes and shortfalls, whilst identifying any future goals, risks and opportunities to get a true picture your business's 'fitness level'.

Your unique health profile

You'll then receive your own personalised business health report, identifying what you do well and what we can help you do even better. And if you want to leave it there, that's fine with us - there's no obligation.

But... if you really want to get your business fighting fit for 2010, we'll work with you to put in place your own personalised and structured plan, identifying all the key measures and support you'll ever need to help take your business where you want it to be.
